

A Review & A Giveaway: Nana Star

Early last week, I was entirely and happily surprised to receive an amazing package full of darling surprises in the mail from the laugh-friendly company®. After I anxiously opened the package, my girls rushed in and began 'claiming their prizes', never-mind the fact that my daughters are 13 and 10! Up for grabs was: 2 adorable and wonderfully illustrated books with CDs, an adorable Nana Star doll and... Moonman!

What is Nana Star? The laugh-friendly company® describes this collection as this: "...character-building Nana Star series promote positive values in a simple, imaginative manner accessible to the littlest listeners. Each book introduces a new friend who helps Nana Star on her way by embodying a traditional virtue."

Furthermore, I'm not to sure if the creators intended to create an allegory or not, but I couldn't help but feel a correlation between Moonman and our Heavenly Father. "I am the Moonman and I will be with you always. Even when you can't see me, I am with you, watching over you."

Without further ado, allow me to introduce...

Nana Star & the Moonman

The next inspiring story in the Nana Star series...

Nana Star is ready to bring the lost baby star back home where he belongs, but the world has gone to bed and she feels scared and alone. With help from a new friend, she learns that she is never alone, that the Moonman is always watching over and guiding her, even when she can't see him.

Moonman Lovey

Made to be loved to pieces, the Moonman lovey glows when Little Twinkles cuddle him and plays a sleepy "luvaby" when they hug his tummy! He's a comforting presence as they drift off to dreamland.

(Note: The song that the Moonman plays is so cute and catchy! My hubby says it sounds like little "Michael Bubles" in training!)

From their site: "Our first and most important initiative is the Nana Star Foundation, dedicated to two main causes: helping make life easier for children attending under-resourced, inner-city schools and for terminally ill children. A portion of all Nana Star product sales goes directly to the Foundation.

Through the Nana Star Foundation, we wrap hope around books and toys for thousands of children who need a reason to smile.

In addition to donations to charitable and social action organizations, we routinely give Nana Star books and toys to schools, libraries, and hospitals throughout the country and around the world." To make a donation to the foundation,
