

Tuesday, June 24, 2008

NANA STAR!

Nana Star is the first book in the Nana Star series. A little girl who finds a lost star becomes its Nana in this story, titled Nana Star. The star is a little scared to be lost. However, a friendly tree helps the star by lending it its branch to make it feel higher. As they start out on the journey to bring the star home the moonman appears. This book indirectly addresses a child's fear of being lost and separated from someone and having someone to protect them.

The book continues in Nana Star and the Moonman. Nana Star exclaims, "There really is a man in the moon". Moonman guides and protects as they continue their journey.

The pictures are simple sketches that feel warm and could be easily copied by a child.

Check out all the goodies on the Nana Star website! The Nana Star Doll is as loveable as the character and moonman will lead to many dreams and imaginary talks with the man in the moon.

<http://www.nanastar.com/>

Order Today!

<http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/097538435X/mothertalk-20/>

Leave me a comment to win your own Nana Star Prize package (two books, moonman and nanastar doll).

Special thank you to the mothertalk blog for choosing my blog for this tour!