Wonderful World of Nana Star Review and Give Away

Not long ago we were contacted by the wonderful people at EE Publishing. Better known as Laughfriendly.

The two sisters, Elizabeth Sills and Elena Patrice co-founders of EE publishing, along with Linda Saker -the daughter of Nana Star's creator and mother of the authors, have produced what I consider one of the most wonderful series of stories for young children.

The Nana Star series of books teach a wonderful lesson about unconditional love and caring.

The stories center around a young girl who finds a small star,lost and scared. The star desperately wants to find her Nana and our young heroine is so touched that she makes a promise to help the small star along on its journey home, to the loving arms of her Nana. She takes on the name Nana Star and slipping the tiny lost twinkler in her pocket, sets out on a road to discovery and on a test of love.

The first two books in the series I had the fortune to read to my little ones were "Nana Star" and "Nana Star and the Moonman."

Each comes with a CD containing the Nana Star song and stories.

Each book contains one miss-spelled word. If your child finds it and contacts NanaStar noting the mistake they become members of the Little Twinkle Club. Little Twinkles receive an autographed 8 x 10 photo of the real Nana Star with a personalized message and a certificate of membership. Everybody makes mistakes sometimes, says Nana Star, but she believes that even with those mistakes, we can still create something beautiful.

This series is destined to become a childhood favorite for generations to come.

If you would like a chance to win the first two books in the series "Nana Star and Nana Star and the Moonman" just leave us a message telling us about your favorite childhood reading memories! We will pick one of your names from our trusty salad bowl and announce a winner on the 26th of the month of May.
